Causes of World War I

Dr. Sierakowski

What caused World War I?

What do we mean by long term causes?

Causes of World War I = M A N I A

Long-term causes

- Militarism
- Alliances
- Nationalism
- Imperialism

Short -term cause

- Assassination

Can also be formulated as MAIN

Long-term causes

- Militarism
- Alliances
- Imperialism
- Nationalism

Militarism!

MANIA

MILITARISM

- A policy of glorifying military power and keeping a standing army always prepared for war.
- Large armies, large navies
- “If you want peace, prepare for war.”
- How might this cause/worsen war?

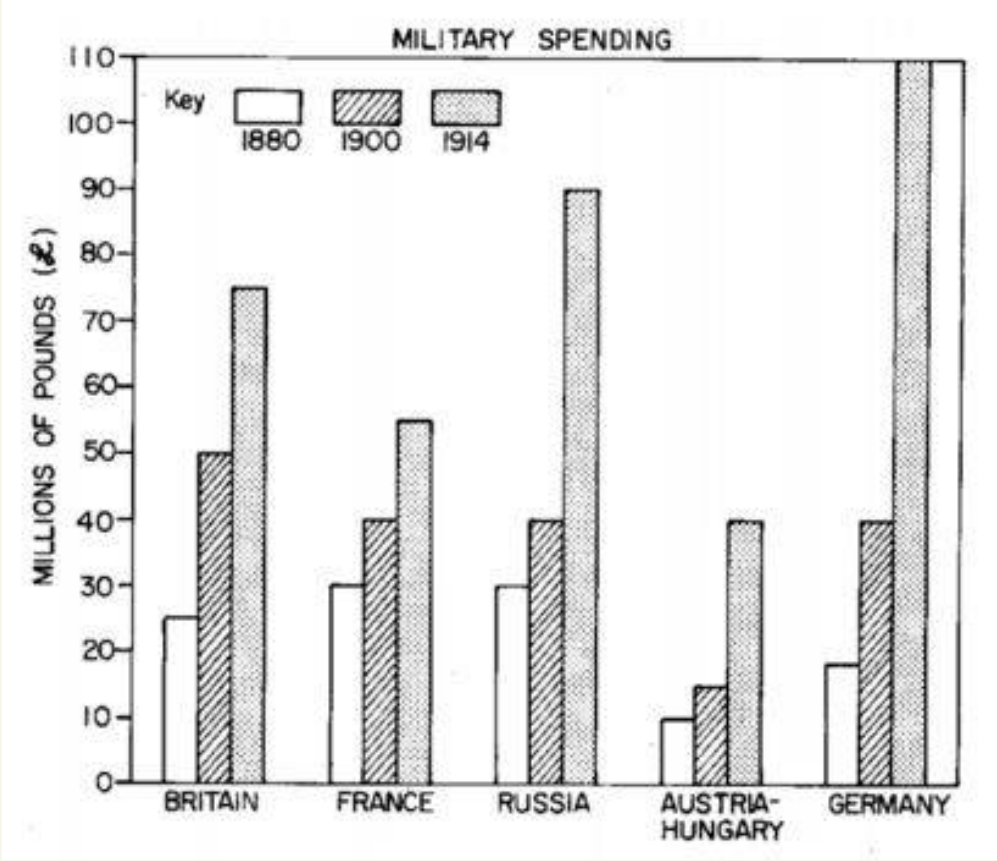

EXAMPLES

- Germany's growth changes balance of power in Europe

- Naval competition between Britain and Germany, late 1800's and early 1900's.

- Japan's rapid military development

Alliances!

MANIA

GERMAN UNIFICATION – WHY IMPORTANT?

- Tension grew between France/Germany because of what France lost (Alsace-Lorraine) during German unification…
  - Germany's concern = French retaliation!
  - Decides that strong alliances are the key to preventing war with France

France then forms a military alliance with Russia in 1892. Great Britain, concerned with growing Germany's naval threat, joins soon after.

These three powers form the alliance called the TRIPLE ENTENTE.

Why could this be potentially problematic for Germany?

In response, Germany, Austria-Hungary, and Italy make their own alliance

- TRIPLE ALLIANCE (later in WWI, this alliance will be called the CENTRAL POWERS due to their location)

- How might this system of competing alliances draw Europe into a massive conflict?

LET'S REVIEW… WHAT IS NATIONALISM?

- Review: "The belief in the concept that nations should be made up of people who share a common culture, language, and history."
    - In the 19th C., why was this a threat to large, multi-ethnic empires, such as the Ottoman Empire, the Russian Empire, and the Austro-Hungarian Empire?

BEGINNINGS OF WAR

- When war broke out in Europe, most people said it would be “over by Christmas.”
- Unfortunately, the world had never experienced the harsh realities of industrial warfare.
- Rather than speed up war, the new technology just killed more people.

SCHLIEFFEN PLAN

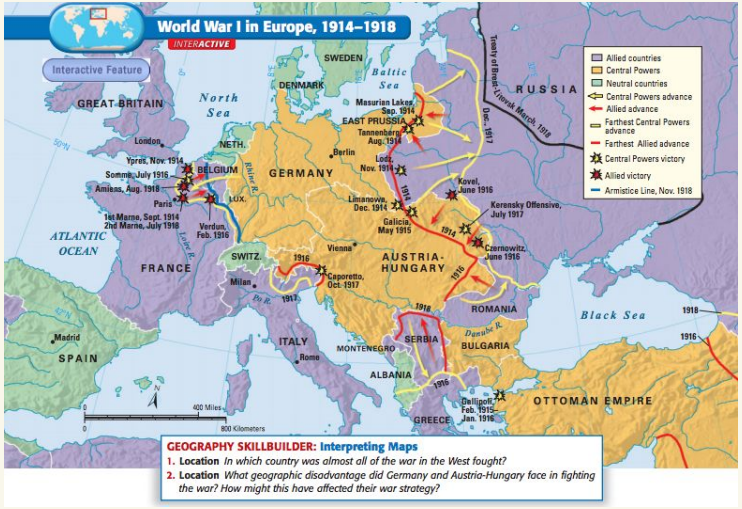

GEOGRAPHY SKILLBUILDER: Interpreting Maps

1. Location In which country was almost all of the war in the West fought?
2. Location What geographic disadvantage did Germany and Austria-Hungary face in fighting the war? How might this have affected their war strategy?

REALITY SETS IN

- With Schlieffen Plan, Germans had reached the outskirts of Paris by early September!
- But…Allies regroup and push back
    - Schlieffen Plan fails and Germany prepares for a 2-front war
- War on the western front turns into a bloody stalemate, or deadlock

REALITY SETS IN

- New type of warfare: trench warfare
- Deadlocked region of trenches in northern France came to be known as the Western Front

COSTS OF INDUSTRIAL WARFARE

Battle of Verdun

- Each side lost more than 300,000 men
- Germany advanced four miles

Battle of the Somme

- Each side suffers more than half a million casualties
- Britain gains about five miles

The New Weapons of War

Poison Gas

Soldiers wore masks like those shown at left to protect themselves from poison gas. Gas was introduced by the Germans but used by both sides. Some gases caused blindness or severe blisters, others death by choking.

Machine Gun

The machine gun, which fires ammunition automatically, was much improved by the time of World War I. The gun, shown to the left, could wipe out waves of attackers and thus made it difficult for forces to advance.

Tank

The tank, shown to the left, was an armored combat vehicle that moved on chain tracks—and thus could cross many types of terrain. It was introduced by the British in 1916 at the Battle of the Somme.

Submarine

In 1914, the Germans introduced the submarine as an effective warship. The submarine's primary weapon against ships was the torpedo, an underwater missile.

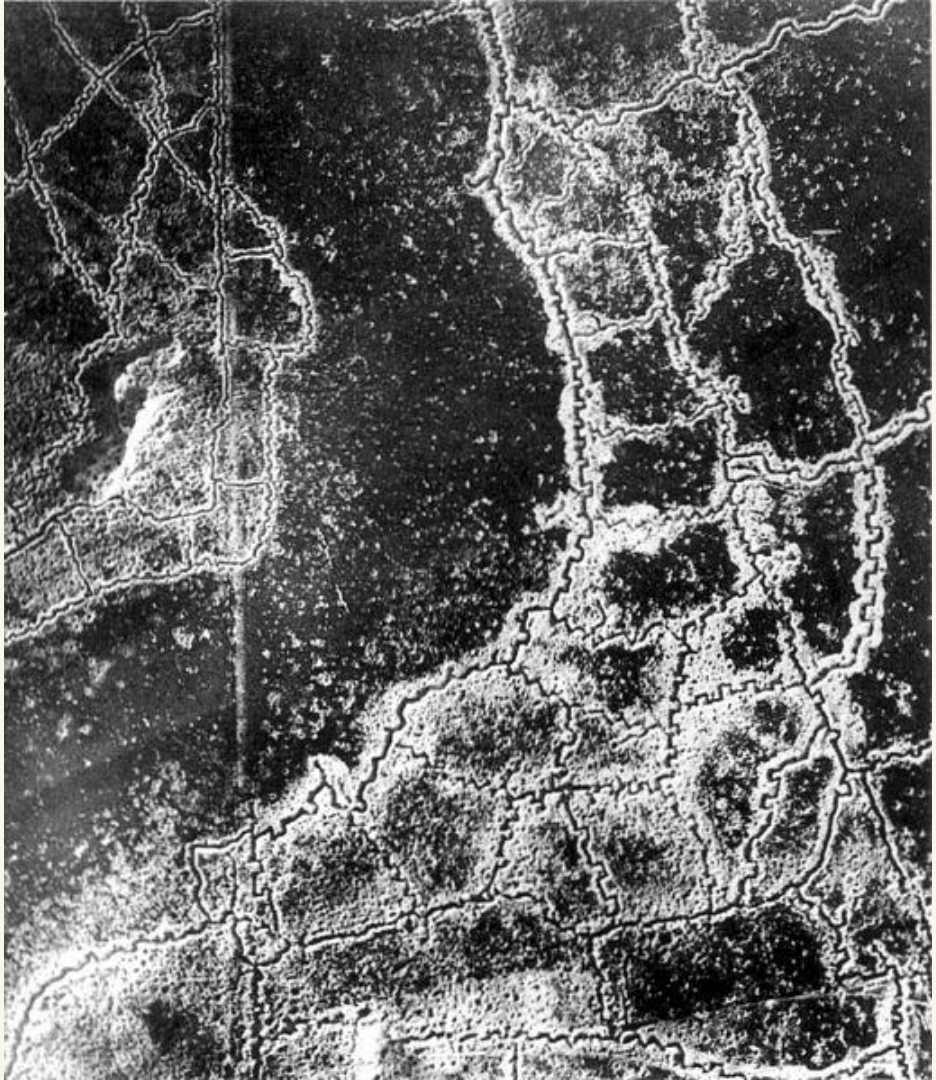

What is a trench?

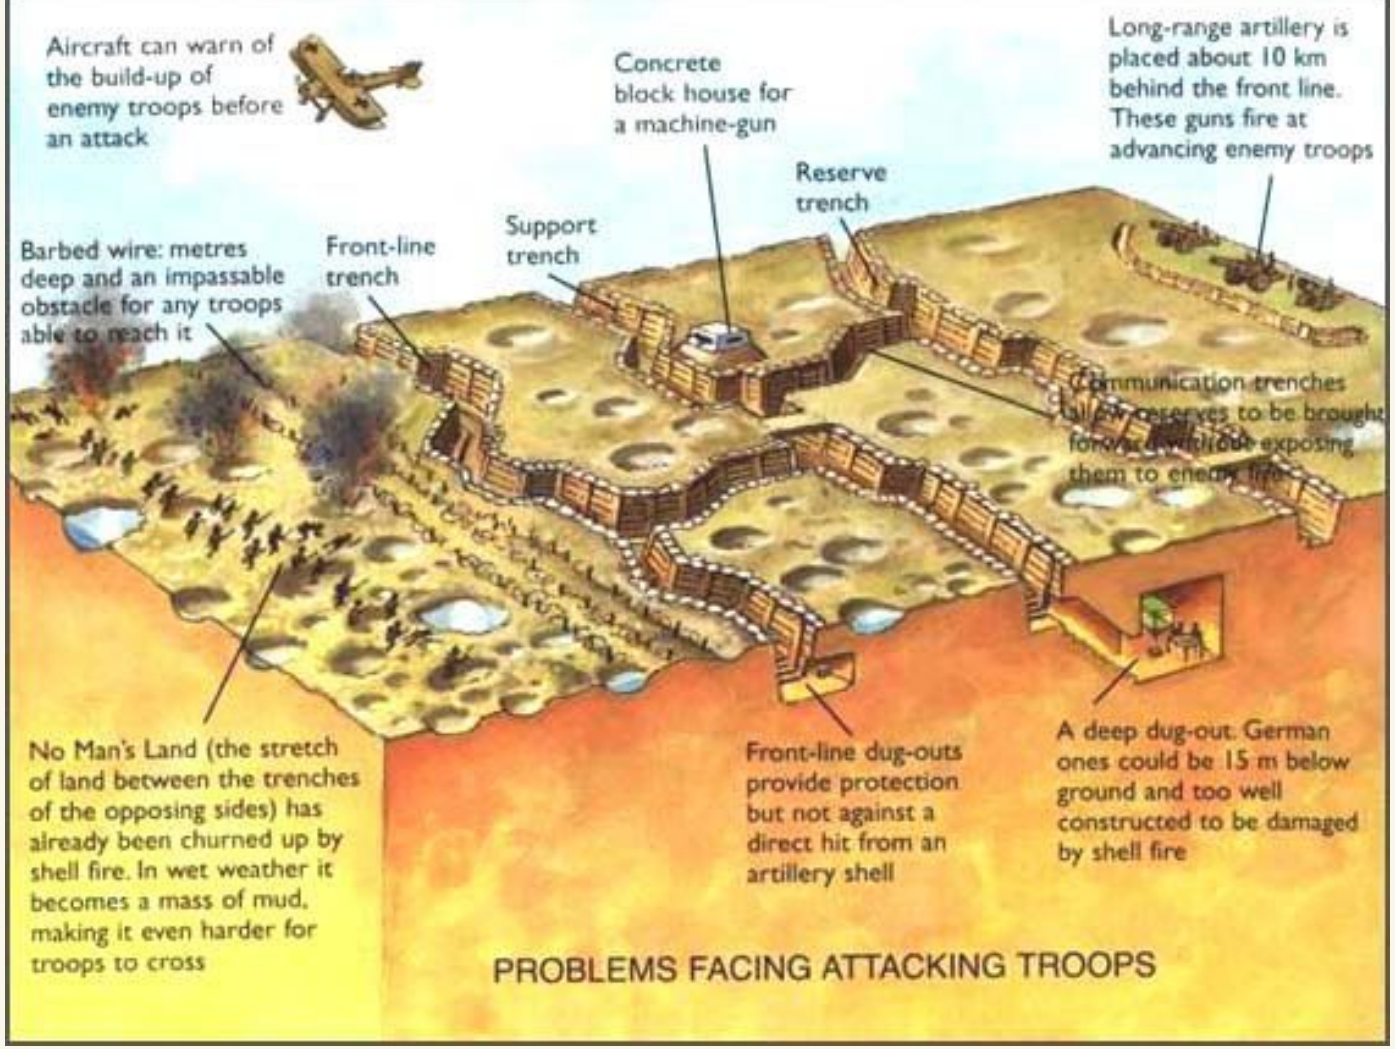

- Static lines of fortifications dug into the ground
- Opposing armies facing each other
- Meeting of the old & the new

HISTORY

HISTORY
HISTORY

Aircraft can warn of the build-up of enemy troops before an attack
Concrete block house for a machine-gun
Long-range artillery is placed about 10 km behind the front line. These guns fire at advancing enemy troops
Reserve trench
Support trench
Front-line trench
Barbed wire: metres deep and an impassable obstacle for any troops able to reach it
Communication trenches allow reserves to be brought forward without exposing them to enemy fire
No Man's Land (the stretch of land between the trenches of the opposing sides) has already been churned up by shell fire. In wet weather it becomes a mass of mud, making it even harder for troops to cross
Front-line dug-outs provide protection but not against a direct hit from an artillery shell
A deep dug-out. German ones could be 15 m below ground and too well constructed to be damaged by shell fire

HORRORS OF THE TRENCHES

Death in the Trenches

- Approx. 12% of British troops on the Western Front die
- No antibiotics
- Unsanitary conditions
  - cold, damp, unsanitary water, no latrines, etc.

TRENCH RATS

One soldier described finding a group of dead bodies while on patrol: "I saw some rats running from under the dead men's greatcoats, enormous rats, fat with human flesh. My heart pounded as we edged towards one of the bodies. His helmet had rolled off. The man displayed a grimacing face, stripped of flesh; the skull bare, the eyes devoured and from the yawning mouth leapt a rat.“

"Rats came up from the canal, fed on the plentiful corpses, and multiplied exceedingly. While I stayed here with the Welch, a new officer joined the company and, in token of welcome, was given a dug-out containing a spring-bed. When he turned in that night he heard a scuffling, shone his torch on the bed, and found two rats on his blanket tussling for the possession of a severed hand."

TRENCH FOOT

- “If you have never had trench foot described to you, I will explain. Your feet swell to two to three times their normal size and go completely dead. You can stick a bayonet into them and not feel a thing. If you are lucky enough not to lose your feet and the swelling starts to go down, it is then that the most indescribable agony begins. I have heard men cry and scream with pain and many have had to have their feet and legs amputated. I was one of the lucky ones, but one more day in that trench and it may have been too late.”

OTHER CREATURES....

- “The water in the trenches through which we waded was alive with a multitude of swimming frogs. Red slugs crawled up the side of the trenches and strange beetles with dangerous looking horns wriggled along dry ledges and invaded the dugouts, in search of the lice that infested them.”

LICE

- "We slept in our clothes and cut our hair short so that it would tuck inside our caps. Dressing simply meant putting on our boots. There were times when we had to scrape the lice off with the blunt edge of a knife and our underclothes stuck to us. "

Total War & The Home Front

- Retooling economies for war involved nationalizing industries, rationing consumer goods, forbidding strikes, and selling war bonds to raise capital

- Censorship and propaganda were used to maintain morale

What is propaganda?

What examples exist today?

What is propaganda?

Elements of Propaganda

The elements of effective propaganda posters include the following:

1. Labels: anything written in the cartoon.

2. Symbols: represent or stand for something else (Uncle Sam- U.S.)
3. Exaggeration: things appear larger than they actually are to EMPHASIZE a point
4. Main Message: what is the artist trying to convince the audience to believe?

TELEGRAM RECEIVED.

FROM 2nd from London # 5747.

"We intend to begin on the first of February unrestricted submarine warfare. We shall endeavor in spite of this to keep the United States of America neutral. In the event of this not succeeding, we make Mexico a proposal of alliance on the following basis: make war together, make peace together, generous financial support and an understanding on our part that Mexico is to reconquer the lost territory in Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona. The settlement in detail is left to you. You will inform the President of the above most secretly as soon as the outbreak of war with the United States of America is certain and add the suggestion that he should, on his own initiative, ~~invite~~ Japan to immediate adherence and at the same time mediate between Japan and ourselves. Please call the President's attention to the fact that the ruthless employment of our submarines now offers the prospect of compelling England in a few months to make peace." Signed, ZIMMERMANN.

Armistice Signing 11:00 am on Nov. 11, 1918:

Armistice

Veteran’s Day

Marked the official ceasefire; Germany agreed to stop fighting as terms for peace negotiations were set.

Reasons for German Surrender: Worsening conditions, internal unrest, depletion of resources, and military defeats.

Impact of Modern Warfare

- 22 million dead in 4 years of fighting.
  - For what?
- Many countries are both economically and physically damaged from the war. Economic Total: $338 Billion!
- Not all injuries were visible.
  - PTSD was called “Shell Shock”
  - Society struggled to support both physical and mental injuries caused by war

Woodrow Wilson’s Fourteen Points

Core Principles: self-determination for nations, the League of Nations.

Goal: To prevent future wars through international cooperation and fair treatment of all nations.

Mixed Reactions: Supported by idealists, criticized by nations seeking punitive measures against Germany.

The Compromise: The Treaty of Versailles

- New Middle Eastern Mandates carved out of losing Ottoman Empire
  - Examples
  - Why were African, Asian, and M.E. territories not given independence like new Euro nations?

Ratification of the Treaty

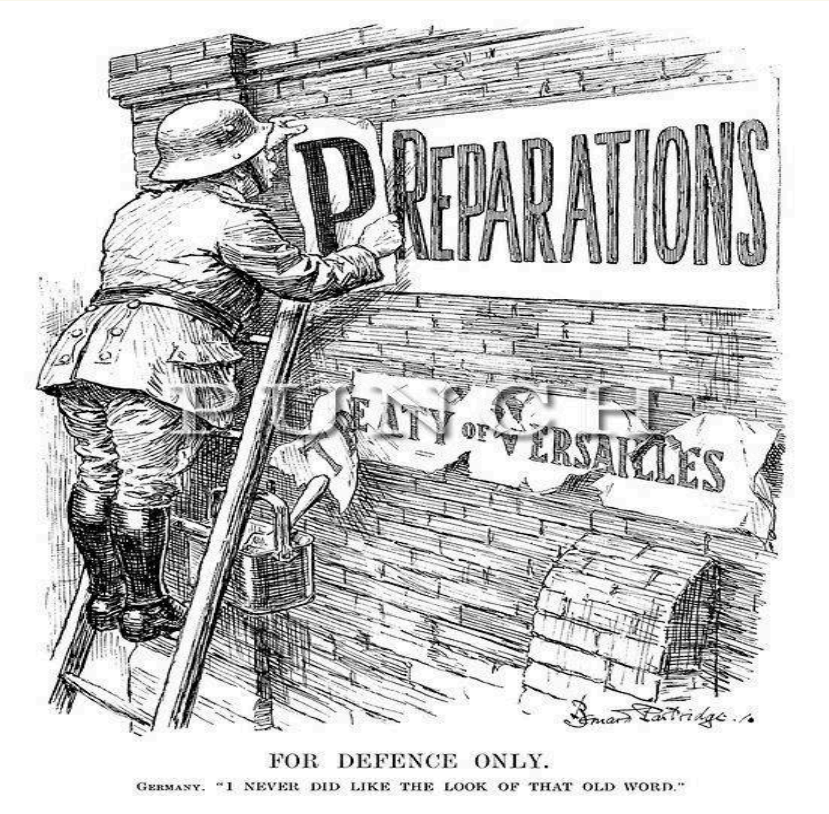

- France & GB
  - Generally satisfied
- U.S.?
  - Signed, but not ratified by Congress – why?
  - Separate treaty drawn up and signed…

THE GAP IN THE BRIDGE.

“a peace built on quicksand…”

- Germany?
- Russia?
- Italy?
- Japan?
- China?
  - Shantung: 1919 v. 1922
- African and Asian Colonies?
- M.E. Mandates?
- U.S.?

FOR DEFENCE ONLY.

GERMANY. "I NEVER DID LIKE THE LOOK OF THAT OLD WORD."

Steps to complete today

Read your perspective sheet on Schoology and write a four sentence summary by hand in your notebook. What is your country? What is your person's name? What did you/your country/group do during the Great War? What are your goals? Show me when you're done.

Once you are approved, create a NoodleTools project with your country and name and share it with me ... start typing B Track 2026 Sierakowski Paris Peace Conference and it will pop up. (or D Track 2026...)

Create a Source in NoodleTools for one of your sources and add 3 titled note cards. Fill out the direct quotation (copy and paste), your paraphrasing (don't AI this), and your ideas (one sentence of how you can use this info in the conference, this is informal)
